

MOTIVATIONAL MODELS OF MULTIPLE SERIAL KILLERS

Zoran ĐURĐEVIĆ
Nenad RADOVIĆ
Dag KOLAREVIĆ

Summary: There are various motives of committing a criminal act. When we talk about homicide, we need to say that it can be the result of huge number of motives, first of all, revenge, blood feud, material gain, jealousy, political motives, sexual motives, etc. The authors present motivational model of multiple-serial killers, and pay attention on factors which contribute that a person becomes a serial killer. First of all, they focus on influence of inadequate social environment, events during childhood, model of responsibility and operations directed to others and us.

Pages 67-76